What is Social Media Optimisation?

Social media optimisation or social media marketing is the process of generating publicity through various social media networks and platforms such as Facebook, Twitter, Google+, LinkedIn, and more.

Social media optimisation facilitates the increase of awareness about a brand, product or service, and also amplifies its engagement with its target audience — generating more leads and customers.

Why Employ Social Media Optimisation?

Social media is a massive online resource that can only increase its usefulness as a marketing venue – as more and more people connect with each other and communicate thoughts and feelings about businesses, brands, products and services through status messages, likes, tweets, links, photos, and videos.

One in six minutes online is spent on social networks.

- comScore

Seventy-six percent of social media users are generally in a positive mood before, during, and after their participation in social networking.
